Compact Course "Fundamentals of compound-feed production"

From 19 to 21 November 2024, our compact course on the basics of compound-feed production took place with 35 participants from industries such as the feed industry, machinery and plant engineering as well as agricultural trade.

In our compact course, the following essential topics were covered in a concise format, providing the knowledge required for expertise and the production of compound feed:

- Feed technology
- Product safety
- Feed law
- Sampling and sample division, material properties
- Animal nutrition and feed science

We would like to thank Dr. Sabine Meyer (DMSB, Braunschweig/Germany), Mr. Karsten Frese (Tietjen Verfahrenstechnik GmbH, Hemdingen/Germany) and all attendees for their participation.

Workshop "Soy treatment – From cultivation to the end product"

On 4 and 5 December 2024, our workshop on the topic of "Soy treatment – From cultivation to the end product" was held in English. It was a successful event filled with inspiring discussions, exciting presentations and valuable networking opportunities!

20 participants joined the event and experienced a diverse programme.

The practical session on thermal treatment using dry/wet heat in the institute's laboratory was a highlight, allowing participants to actively engage and generated great enthusiasm.

During this event, we had the special honour of bidding farewell to our long-standing IFF member and speaker, Rens Mulder from Ottevanger, as he entered his well-deserved retirement. We sincerely thank him for his support and dedication.

A heartfelt thank-you goes to our expert speakers:

- Prof. Dr. Sven Dänicke (Friedrich-Loeffler-Institut, Institute of Animal Nutrition, Braunschweig/Germany)
  - Jasmin Karer (Donau Soja Organisation, Vienna/Austria)
  - Christophe Michaut (Vitalac, Carnoët/France)
  - Martin Miersch (German Soy Promotion Association, Emmendingen/Germany)
  - Rens Mulder (Ottevanger Milling Engineers, Aalten/The Netherlands)
  - Leon Pusan (EST GmbH, Geretsberg/Austria)
  - David Tornow (Maschinenfabrik Reinartz GmbH & Co. KG, Neuss/Germany)
  - Felix Tometten (Amandus Kahl GmbH & Co. KG, Reinbek/Germany)
  - Dr. Markus Wiltafsky-Martin (Evonik Operations GmbH, Hanau/Germany)
- and a big thank-you to all participants for making this event exceptional.

We are already looking forward to future events and hope to welcome you again soon!
